

21 FEBRUARY 2017*CIMIC'S UGL AWARDED MAINTENANCE SERVICES CONTRACT

CIMIC Group company, UGL, has been awarded a contract by Esso Australia Pty Ltd ("Esso") to provide maintenance services for the next five years.

Under the scope of contract, UGL will provide routine maintenance, shutdown and minor modification project services for Esso's onshore oil and gas processing plants at Longford, Long Island Point fractionation plant and Barry Beach Marine Terminal; offshore oil and gas producing platforms located in the Bass Strait, Victoria; and its crude oil, LPG and gas pipelines.

CIMIC Group Chief Executive Officer Adolfo Valderas said: "Securing this contract reflects UGL's commitment to delivering cost effective, innovative solutions which optimally maintain our clients' critical assets. Building longstanding partnerships with clients such as Esso has positioned UGL as a leading asset services provider to the Australian upstream oil and gas industry."

UGL Managing Director Juan Santamaria said: "Our success in being awarded the contract reflects our ability to align with our client's vision and their strong health, safety and environmental culture. We look forward to working with Esso in delivering a flexible and collaborative solution to their asset management needs across their onshore and offshore assets."

UGL is expected to commence mobilisation of its workforce in the first half of the 2017 calendar year.
