EXTENSION

CIMIC Group's global mining services provider, Thies, has been awarded a A$160 million contract extension by Coronado Curragh to continue to provide mining services at the Curragh Coal Mine in Queensland, Australia.

Thies has a long record of service at Curragh having operated at the project since 2004.

CIMIC Group Chief Executive Officer Michael Wright said: "This is the fifth successive contract that Thies has won to deliver mining services at the Curragh Mine. Our team has a strong record of consistently meeting production targets through operational excellence and a commitment to strong safety performance. This extension recognises our depth of expertise and the consistency of the service that our team has brought to this operation."

CIMIC Group Executive Mining and Mineral Processing and Thies Managing Director Douglas Thompson said: "Thies has operated at Curragh for more than 14 years. Over that time, we've developed a deep understanding of the site and its operations and built a strong working relationship with the Curragh team. We look forward to continuing this excellent record of delivery for Coronado Coal."

Under the contract extension, Thies will mine approximately 45 million BCMs (bank cubic metres) of waste and coal at Curragh's North Pit, located 30 kilometres north of Blackwater until June 2019.

In addition, Thies will continue delivery of its existing scope of works under its current $1.1 billion contract until 2021.

This includes waste and coal mining truck excavation works, run of mine rehandling services, maintenance of a client owned shovel and heavy medium earthmoving equipment
